

GENERAL ELECTIONS

According to the Constitution Section 136 –

- (1) A general election of elected members of the House shall be held at such a time within sixty days after every dissolution of Parliament, as the King shall appoint by proclamation published in the Gazette.
- (2) Subject to the provisions of this Constitution, Parliament may enact laws of the conduct of elections and the qualification of voters.

